

Liz Cannon is a Reading and Writing Specialist in the Hopkinton School District. She was the recipient of the 2022-23 Christa McAuliffe Sabbatical. During this time, she traveled throughout New Hampshire to support districts and educators in implementing evidence-based literacy practices. Liz is also the creator and owner of Literacy Leaders, NH, through which she provides literacy consulting, assessment, and tutoring. She has extensive training in structured literacy practices and is currently working toward her

Ed.D. in Educational Leadership to enable her to have a bigger influence on necessary literacy switches that need to happen in the state. Liz is guided by Dr. Maya Angelou's quote, "When you know better, do better."

Kathleen McCaffery-Pomerleau is currently employed by the New Hampshire Department of Education as a Consultant for English Language Arts. McCaffery taught for 16 years as a public school elementary teacher and worked in a clinical setting with K-12 students for seven years. In both settings, she used evidence-based literacy instruction and data-informed decision-making to provide meaningful instruction for students. She obtained her Bachelor's and Master's degrees from the University of New Hampshire and recently obtained her Doctorate at Northeastern University in Curriculum Design with a research emphasis in phonology, spelling, and technology.
